Buy and Sell Virtual Currencies

Using Credit Cards and Bank transfers

With Coinify inWallet Buy/Sell, your customers can easily move between virtual and traditional currencies. Your wallet users can make payments through bank transfer, credit cards or in virtual currencies, and receive the currency of their choice. This allows users to buy, sell and store wallet currencies without ever leaving the wallet, introducing a hassle-free and easy to use service for your end-users.

HOW IT WORKS

Our flexible API allows you to customise the user journey, providing the wallet user with a variety of payment options tailored as per your request. An example of a basic flow, where the customer buys Bitcoin:

KEY BENEFITS

ALL INCLUSIVE SERVICE

Coinify provides you with an end-to-end service where we handle the entire payment process. We take care of your customers by providing customer support, KYC, AML and Source of Funds checks - allowing you to concentrate on developing your wallet while we process your payments.

ATTRACTIVE REVENUE SHARE

With Coinify inWallet Buy/Sell, you get a competitive edge without taking any risk or having to worry about the regulatory hassle in the traditional payments space. An attractive revenue share is available for larger volumes. (Can be converted into even more competitive customer prizes.)

FLEXIBLE API LETS YOU TAILOR THE CUSTOMER JOURNEY

An API access to the Coinify infrastructure enables you to design the customer journey as required, so you can build your own solution for trading virtual currencies via web or mobile applications. To make integration easy, Coinify supplies opt-in building blocks in the form of a payment window and an optional KYC solution.
